

CADARETTA

QUICK FACTS

Our family business has a tradition of doing things right. We began working the land on the Washington State coast in 1898, more than 100 years ago. Cadaretta represents our desire and intention to produce on of this state's finest wines, to carry on that tradition for another hundred years – and more.

– Rick Middleton

- Owners: The Middleton Family through their Anderson & Middleton Company
- Winemaker: Kendall Mix
- Name Origin: Cadaretta is named for a ship that once carried Anderson & Middleton lumber products to market on the US west coast.
- Winemaking: The winery is on Dell Avenue in the city of Walla Walla, Washington.
- Tasting Gallery: 315 E. Main Street, in downtown Walla Walla, Washington
- Philosophy: Cadaretta wines join "Science and Soul." Science is the rigorous attention to detail in vineyards and winery, employing the best current knowledge and expertise to assure special quality and character. Soul is the passion, the indefinable leap of faith that goes beyond science. That's makes the wines unique: The Middleton family's passion, the vineyard manager's passion, the winemaker's passion.
- Vineyards: Southwind Vineyard, the winery's Walla Walla Valley AVA estate (planted in 2008); other selected contract vineyards in the Columbia Valley AVA.
- Wines: SBS (Sauvignon Blanc / Semillon)
Cabernet Sauvignon
Syrah
Springboard (Bordeaux red blend)
Windthrow (Rhône red blend)
Southwind Estate blends and selections
- Case Production: 4,500 nine-liter equivalents
